AV Webcam Morpher Crack+ With Serial Key Free Download X64

AV Webcam Morpher is an application that enables you to easily record and broadcast your webcam. The application has been specifically designed to simulate a webcam broadcast. In this way, it can be used during chat sessions or video conferences in order to change your webcam image, hide your webcam audio or apply various distortions and filters. It can be used with all major instant messaging programs, such as Skype, MSN Messenger and Yahoo! Messenger. Thanks to the sound recorder integrated into the application, you can record your own audio or video clips. The rich collection of effects can be used in order to adjust the webcam image brightness, contrast, grayscale or filter the webcam video. You can also use noise reduction, grayscale or use other interesting water, surface or color effects to give the webcam stream a more appealing look. The webcam audio can also be manipulated, enabling you to distort it in order to make it sound totally different. In addition to this, you can broadcast the webcam output so as to share it with your friends. Simulate webcam broadcast Its main purpose is to provide full control over the webcam output, enabling you to apply noise reduction, grayscale or use other interesting water, surface or color effects to give the webcam stream a more appealing look. It can be used with instant messaging programs. Practically, the application simulates a webcam broadcast, which can be done even if your computer is not actually equipped with such a capturing device. Nickfaces and nickvoices Thanks to the available 'nickfaces' and 'nickvoices', you can become anyone you want to and change your virtual character daily. Furthermore, the integrated recorder can help you create clips of your own. Start AV Webcam Morpher and select Nickfaces or Nickvoices, then choose the webcam output to be modified, then the audio input (microphone) to be recorded, then your nick and finally the date to be changed. Morphe the video and audio output of your webcam or any other output device and replay it to the screen. The video recording can be played with the application's provided player. In addition to this, the voice recording can be played with the application's provided player.
