

In development you can get 7.1rc6. In other words, all of the latest packages are available. To date, Mikrotik has not dropped software . Winbox 3.0 Re6 Download (Click to download) A: I used the following command to get a MD5 hash: md5 -r Then I used this command to view the MD5 hash: md5sum I replaced with the path to Winbox you provided. The following command should return the MD5 hash of your Winbox 3.0.1.exe (in the directory where you downloaded Winbox 3.0.1.exe): md5 -r winbox-3.0.1.exe The following command should return the MD5 hash of your Winbox 3.0.1.exe.zip (in the directory where you downloaded Winbox 3.0.1.exe.zip): md5 -r winbox-3.0.1.exe.zip You can paste the above commands into cmd.exe (on Windows 10) or in your terminal (on a Linux or Mac OS based system) in order to get a MD5 hash. Note that you might have to change the path to your file if it is in a different directory, depending on where you saved the file. If you run into issues, the following links might be of help: How to solve md5sum not found issue while running md5sum -r command? How to get a list of file hashes with md5sum? How do I create a MD5 hash for a file in UNIX? It is also possible to use the Winbox website (to view the MD5 hash of your Winbox. Hope this helps, and I am looking forward to getting your feedback. UPDATE If you have Winbox 3.0.2 or later already, you can update via the command line: wbinstall -i If you get an error that it is not installed, you can find and download the latest Winbox installer here: Winbox Windows Installer I am using Winbox 3.0.2, so this works for me. UPDATE 2 As an alternative, you could also use Winbox on the Winbox website (
