KEYMACRO is a stand-alone script that changes a specific set of keys on your keyboard into the keys you want. For example, it allows you to use the "Meta" key on a non-US keyboard (or AltGr on a US keyboard) to type the French character 'é'. You can use your computer's keyboard as your 'home' keyboard, so that you never have to worry about switching keyboards. KeyMacro works with any computer and it's simple to use. No installer is required. Start typing on your keyboard (or press Ctrl-Alt-Shift) and hit the keyboard shortcut you want to assign, and you're done! It works with any language and many other special keys (like volume control, back/forward, etc) can be used as shortcuts. KeyMacro supports USB and Bluetooth. KeyMacro must be able to detect the keyboard and see all the keys on it.
