What's New in the FoxyVPN?

FoxyVPN is an application that makes it possible for users to use the Internet anonymously. It makes this possible by using a VPN connection to ensure that every single bit of your personal data is protected. FoxyVPN works by routing traffic through the network of servers created by the developer of the application. What distinguishes this software from other VPN applications is that you are not required to select an IP address manually. FoxyVPN can automatically select the best IP to use depending on your current location. There is also an automatic IP address changing feature that can be useful if you are planning to use FoxyVPN on multiple devices at the same time. This means that the user will always be connected to the best available servers and the changes in the IP address are made automatically. Another nice feature of this software is that you can set the desired time interval to change the IP address automatically. Once the time is up the program will notify the user. Useful software features: * Automatically selecting the best IP address for your current location * Automatically changing the IP address after the designated time - Unlimited VPNs, Easy to install and configure. - This software is available for all popular OS (Win, Mac and Linux). - High performance and fast speed. - Totally anonymous. - No logging - High level of security. - Easy to use. - Free download. - Free 30 days Money Back Guarantee. + All Features + Fully secure. + Open source and free. + No logs + No charge + Many servers: USA, Europe, Asia, etc. + 7-Day Money Back Guarantee If you feel that the program is not a suitable for your needs, you can get your money back within 7 days.
