Virtual Agents are introduced in a more tactical fashion, giving players the option to choose and develop their own virtual agent for a tactical masterclass and then the ability to play alongside that custom-built agent. This new feature will allow the player to take possession of the short passing virtual agent in possession of the ball and feed it the ball to pass to a player of their choice. Missions, which were first introduced in FIFA 16, return to make a comeback. A new set of signature rivalries have been created for each respective competition to make the game feel fresh and unique. The rewards and penalties system has been slightly tweaked and the Scouting Report added as part of the Team of the Week and Squad Builder. A new feature added to Goalkeeper Training is "Instant Defending." The goalkeeper can now choose to play a quick one-touch-only goal kick in order to instantly defend against any attackers located anywhere in the designated zone. Respite mode has been added to the match engine. It allows the player to go to their own offside trap and end the game there, or press a button at the end of the half to go straight to a bonus round if they don't have time to play one. Additional mini games have been created to unlock parts of the game. Leaderboards have been improved, with new leaderboards added for 8v8 and team modes. Players can also compare their results to those of their friends across all platforms. The 3-on-3 mini-games have been tweaked with the addition of a "Tone for Tone" mode. It brings back the sound from the classic 4-4-2 and 3-4-3 formations, boosting the intensity of the match as the players have a direct impact on the outcome of the match. Online functionality has been overhauled and has been improved across the board. Friendlies have been introduced and the community mode is now completely overhauled. The community gives you tools to help you build your favorite team, including team name suggestions, kits, managers and jerseys for your team. You can set up your own draft group, invite your friends into your community and have control over the members you want to be in your group. The community also offers new tools for discovering players and will suggest players to join your team, and you have control over who you invite into your group. A new and improved Matchbook will also show you different fixtures and the online
